

Palisades Relocates Corporate Headquarters to Austin, Texas

AUSTIN, November 1, 2019 – After being headquartered in Los Angeles, CA since 2012, we are excited to announce the relocation of Palisades corporate headquarters to Austin, TX. Palisades will maintain an office in Santa Monica, CA for those team members electing to remain in California and we will maintain our office in Chicago. Those team members relocating to the new headquarters will office at 6001 Bold Ruler Way, Suite 110 once the buildout of the new space is complete in February 2020.

We considered several options with respect to our decision to relocate Palisades' headquarters, but in the end, Austin was a natural and relatively easy decision. From a business standpoint, the centralized proximity to both the U.S. East and West coasts make travel more efficient and there is a wealth of talent located in the Austin metroplex. We also see the opportunity for our team members to enjoy a lower cost of living without state income tax to be a draw to Texas along with the unique culture in Austin that offers so many lifestyle options.

We look forward to welcoming our friends, colleagues, and clients to the new office in 2020.